What is the problem?

- Engineers and the public are concerned about water and the generation of energy
- Water is often undervalued, and part of the price of doing business
- How much water does it take to generate a product, like a car or biofuels?
- How can we prepare to address multi-variable, multiple societal benefit issues?
- GOE/GEOSS is part of the answer.

3	Water Supply	↘	Sustainability; water reuse (especially industrial water reuse)
		↘	Understanding water footprint of goods or services
		↘	Access to clean water and sanitation
		↘	Drought and unpredictable weather patterns
		↘	Watershed protection especially in areas of urban sprawl, population growth
		↘	Imports and exports – and impact on local water region
		↘	Utilizing non-traditional supplies
		↘	Resiliency of water supplies to attack

How does this help GEO

- Part of the same effort, system of systems
- Some of the same people
- Gets the word out, produces synergism
- Gets real feed back on what can be addressed and tasks to do so
